Content Unites Your Organization

Founded in 1990, Documentum was the first to market with an enterprise-scale document management solution built from standard relational database technologies in combination with object-oriented methodologies. Soon, pharmaceutical firms, oil and gas corporations, federal, state, and local government agencies, and other large enterprises came to rely on Documentum to systematically control the production and distribution of mission-critical documents.

Solution Benefits

Documentum provides enterprise content management (ECM) solutions that enable companies to unite teams, content, and associated business processes. Documentum's integrated set of content, compliance, and collaboration solutions support the way people work, from initial discussion and planning through design, production, marketing, sales, service, and corporate administration. With a single platform, Documentum enables people to collaboratively create, manage, deliver, and archive information that drives business operations, from documents, records, and discussions to e-mail, Web pages, and rich media.

Verity® and Documentum partner to streamline current business processes and improve operating efficiencies. "The Verity LiquidOffice and Documentum software combines the technologies of eForm management, document management, and workflow into a single, enterprise-class application." Combined, Verity and Documentum enable organizations to streamline management of websites and extend the use and value of documents and other content, sharing it with other audiences on the Web.

Solution Integration for LiquidOffice

The integration of Documentum and LiquidOffice enables users to complete and submit online forms using standard web browsers.

Completed forms are automatically stored in Documentum, where business rules and routing can be applied for automated processing. As a result of the integration, organizations can dra-
